CALL FOR POSTERS

2ND ANNUAL CONVENTION * APRIL 12-14, 2012 * TAMPA, FL

SUBMISSION DEADLINE: 5 PM EST JANUARY 15, 2012

(No submissions accepted after this date)

The 2012 APBA convention will include one poster session designed to highlight empirical research that is directly relevant to the practice of applied behavior analysis. We welcome submissions from practicing behavior analysts working in service delivery, academic, and research settings. Projects appropriate for submission include completed experiments that are replications of previous studies, evaluations of innovative procedures, or extensions of established procedures with new populations and/or settings.

All submissions must be submitted by email on the form that follows.

Submissions will be evaluated according to the following criteria:

- The project is clearly behavior analytic and is clearly relevant to the practice of applied behavior analysis.
- The presentation is scholarly or scientific and is not designed primarily to promote or market any product, service, agency, program, materials, etc.
- The research question, design, methods, results, and conclusions are described clearly but succinctly. Graphs or tables representing the results are included in the abstract.
- The author(s) should describe how functional control of behavior can be asserted.
